

Time Out

New York

October 6–12, 2005
Issue 523

DON'T MISS!

Dan Torop at Derek Eller

Wynne Greenwood & K8 Hardy, "New Report"

(Foxy Production; see Events)

The artists stage a live newscast performance from their feminist TV station WKRH—where the motto is "Pregnant with Information."

At this event, they'll air "breaking reports" on urgent topics (like their bodies, their anxieties and baths before bedtime). Tue 11 6–8:30pm.

Jenny Holzer, "For the City"

(The New York Public Library; see Events)

From dusk until midnight, Jenny Holzer illuminates the facade of the New York Public Library with poems by writers, including Yehuda Amichai and Wislawa Szymborska. Organized by Creative Time. Thu 6–Sun 9.

Dan Torop

(Derek Eller Gallery; see Chelsea)

Last chance: Dan Torop's photographs document solitude, grace and longing (see: portrait of a seal on the beach at sunrise). Then, just when you think you have him pegged, Torop throws in a computer-generated ocean scene. Distinctions between digital and natural, set-up and "straight" fade away. Closes Sat 8.