

DEREK ELLER GALLERY

North Room

Jessica Jackson Hutchins

February 9 - March 11, 2006

Opening reception: Thursday, February 9, 6-8pm

This exhibition will present a group of ceramic sculptures that Hutchins has made in these last months. They are landscapes and they are dishes, and the landscapes are sometimes supports for the tableware. Hutchins was inspired to make them by an event, the Lonely Dinner, A Redemptive Eat-in, which she hosted and for which she prepared food. It was food from abject times in her life, life "Mom's Funeral Ham" and Stouffer's French Bread Pizza. The dinner, and now these objects, are invitations to celebrate our dark sides.

Derek Eller Gallery is located at 615 West 27th Street, between 11th and 12th Avenues. Hours are Tuesday - Saturday from 11am - 6pm. For further information or visuals, please contact the gallery at 212.206.6411 or visit www.derekeller.com
